MEDNET SOLUTIONS TO SHARE INDUSTRY EXPERTISE AT THE 13TH ANNUAL EDC & BEYOND CONFERENCE IN ORLANDO, FL

Minnetonka, MN – MedNet Solutions, a global life sciences technology solutions company specializing in clinical study management systems, today announced the company’s leading role and active involvement as a speaker, sponsor and exhibitor at the 13th Annual EDC & Beyond conference, to be held Tuesday, April 28 through Thursday, April 30 in Orlando, Florida.

The conference organizers have invited Mr. David Friend, Director of Key Account Management at MedNet Solutions, to speak on “Leveraging eClinical Systems to Enhance Study Monitoring” on Thursday, April 30 at 9:45 a.m. Mr. Friend will utilize his extensive background in clinical operations at well known sponsor and CRO organizations to illustrate how traditional monitoring inefficiencies can be dramatically reduced through superior data visibility, workflow enhancements and productivity tools. Mr. Friend will also participate in the “Integration of e-Clinical Technologies for Optimal Synergistic Performance” panel discussion on Wednesday, April 29 at 4:15 p.m.

MedNet Solutions is proud to once again be a sponsor of the EDC & Beyond event, which brings together thought leaders from sponsor companies, CROs, investigative sites and e-clinical service providers to address technology issues beyond just data capture. As both an exhibitor and sponsor for EDC & Beyond, attendees at this event, as well as the co-located Partnerships with CROs conference, will have the opportunity to meet with Mr. Friend as well as other MedNet team members in MedNet’s booth (#303), and see firsthand MedNet’s comprehensive, yet highly configurable web-based eClinical technology. MedNet’s EDC/CTMS technology automates and simplifies the day-to-day activities of all individuals involved with clinical studies, resulting in significant time and cost savings for sponsors, CROs and clinical sites.
